BOARD CHAIR STATEMENT

The board of directors of an incorporated, non-profit organization is legally responsible for the governance of the organization. Within that mandate is the expectation that the board will develop, implement and monitor policies that will allow the organization to carry out its work. A board is elected by, and accountable to, its membership. While a board may appoint staff and/or committees to carry out specific work related to its policies, programs and services, the board is ultimately responsible for meeting organizational outcomes.

At Ancaster Community Services, the board of directors is comprised of experienced business and community leaders who are dedicated to providing financial, agency and community oversight and support to ensure that ACS fulfills its commitment to the community and its residents.

ACS serves the diverse community of Ancaster by providing programs, volunteer opportunities, information and resources which enhance the quality of life for all. Despite the challenges presented by the evolving COVID-19 pandemic in the past year, ACS successfully fulfilled its mission in accordance with its values of providing accessible, dependable quality services powered by volunteers who treat clients with dignity and respect.

ACS brings the community together in many ways – directly through its programs for food security, seniors and youth, and also through fundraising events and volunteer connections. There were many highlights and milestones in the past year, including:

- Enhancing food security and nutrition through Meals on Wheels, Frozen Meals, and the Food Bank. Meals on Wheels and Frozen Meals are of particular assistance for providing nutrition to seniors as well as social interaction. The ACS Food Bank also continued to be relied upon by families and individuals in need.
- Safely providing assistance to 321 individuals through the Christmas/Holiday Assistance Program, including 105 hampers to families. This was a collaborative team effort supported by additional volunteers as well as support from the City of Hamilton, the Hamilton Public Library (Ancaster Branch), and the Rotary Club of Ancaster.
- Providing continued support and social contact to vulnerable and isolated individuals through the Friendly Calling Program, with over 300 calls.
- Connecting with youth through The Net. Highlights of The Net's successful program including Santa to a Senior Program, Financial Literacy programming in partnership with the Canada Revenue Agency and RBS, March Reading Madness Program, At Home Virtual Engagement Challenges, and Virtual Bi-Monthly coffee house.

This is just a few of the ways that ACS supported the community in the past year, all while keeping staff, volunteers, and community members safe in accordance with public health guidelines.

Members of the Ancaster community have continued to be very generous in their support of ACS, both financially and with volunteering of their time and talents. ACS also promotes collaboration with community partners such as the Ancaster Community Food Drive, the Rotary Club of Ancaster, and religious groups and organizations.

In all of its efforts, the board of directors has worked closely with Executive Director, Lynne Morris. To further support and enhance the governance framework, the board of directors has worked with Lynne to advance an application for accreditation through Imagine Canada. Significant progress was made by filing a preliminary package of documentation to Imagine Canada, which included policies in the areas of finance, governance, fundraising, risk management, and volunteers. The board also updated and modernized its by-laws in the past year.

In addition, the board of directors has worked with Lynne and legal counsel to ensure that the agency achieves compliance with new legislation, the Ontario Not for Profit Corporations Act, 2010, which came into force on October 19, 2021. Existing not-for-profit corporations, such as ACS, have three years to bring their governing documents into compliance with the new law, and that process has been started at ACS.

Lynne took on the role of ED on an interim basis. The board of directors wishes to thank Lynne Morris for her exceptional leadership of ACS during this interim period.

The board of directors undertook a recruitment process for a permanent Executive Director and we are delighted to announce that the successful candidate for Executive Director is Kaylee Norwood. Kaylee is a recognized community leader in the non-profit sector, has served with ACS as the Manager, Volunteer and Social Services since November 2019 and also as the President of the Hamilton Administrators of Volunteers.

The board of directors looks forward to working with Kaylee in her new role as Executive Director, beginning August 2, 2022. The work of the board of directors in the coming term will include undertaking a survey of the community to inform the strategic planning process.

On behalf of the board of directors, I wish to thank Lynne Morris, ACS staff, and ACS volunteers for their incredible accomplishments in the midst of the challenges of the ongoing pandemic. We look forward to continuing to support their work in the community. The Board of Directors also acknowledges the support for ACS at all levels of government.

WORDS FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

As our community experienced another year of changing public health restrictions with the ensuing later pandemic phases, I am very proud of how Ancaster Community Services (ACS) continued to serve the community of Ancaster. ACS supported the community through the various phases of the public health restrictions by adapting quickly with flexible programming which ensured our essential services continued to be delivered to our community. In every operational decision we made to continue our vital service delivery we prioritized the well-being of our clients, volunteers, staff and community.

Our Frozen Meals and Meals on Wheels programs saw combined growth and provided our clients with flexibility for delivery as well as a variety of food choices. The Assisted Volunteer Driving Program remained a flexible program aligning to the ongoing public health restrictions, ramping up and ramping down as the emergency measures dictated. Our Shopping 4 Seniors program, launched at the onset of the pandemic, continued to grow as a critical service to our seniors who were most at-risk.

Depending on the municipal and provincial restrictions in place, our Youth Program led by the Youth Advisory Team, The Net, launched both in-person and virtual events to ensure the continuation of our youth engagement programming. Activities that ranged from wellness and mental health events, leadership forums, job readiness programs, mentorship opportunities, as well as group activities that included online games, trivia and creative projects. During an extremely difficult time with an inability to socialize in-person or learn in classrooms, the Youth Program created an inclusive and welcoming space that enriched and supported its many youth members.

Meeting all the challenges of the past year, both the ACS staff and volunteers continued to deliver on our programs with innovative ideas and unwavering commitment. Incorporating all the public health and safety protocols, the staff and volunteers remained resilient, managed the changes, and delivered the programs and services with compassion, excellence and always a sense of humour.

“ Meeting all the challenges of the past year, both the ACS staff and volunteers continued to deliver on our programs with innovative ideas and unwavering commitment. ”

We would not be able to accomplish all our important work in the community without the generous support from our dedicated volunteers and community donors. As our charity is only partly funded by government grants and foundations, we continue to rely on donations from local individuals and businesses to provide our community services and programs.

As communicated by the ACS Board Chair I am excited to be able to work alongside Kaylee Norwood as she transitions into her new role of ACS Executive Director, effective 02 August 2022. Her dedication and commitment to the community, clients, volunteers, staff and agency is inspiring. I am excited to return to the Board to continue to support the exceptional work of the agency.

A sincere thank you to all members of the Ancaster community for your continued support and commitment to ACS. We will continue to build on this trust and support to serve our community with purpose and enhance the quality of life for all.

The Net Youth Engagement Program has been growing in leaps and bounds since its creation in 2019. Through recent challenges our youth were able to continue to stay connected to one another and find ways to safely contribute to their community. With the support of online platforms, youth programs and volunteer opportunities were offered virtually allowing students to earn community volunteers hours.

Thank you to The Net's Youth Advisory Committee, which seats 20 members, for contributing ideas and leadership from various middle schools and high schools in Ancaster and surrounding areas. Each opportunity is designed to teach youth volunteers between the ages of 13-18 about teamwork, advocacy, leadership, mindfulness, volunteering and overall wellness.

Over the past fiscal year The Net has partnered with community leaders to create themes around community engagement, life skills, environment, education, physical and mental health. Some of these opportunities included RBC financial literacy workshops, environmental awareness with Green Venture and RBG, yoga and meditation sessions with Heron Creek, Free Little Library Book Box with Ancaster Rotary and the Food4Kids mural project.
